

Employment & Inclusion Conference 2026: The Power of Expectations

March 24, 2026

10:15 AM

Breakout Session A-3

The Power of Choice and Supporting Personal Autonomy

This presentation explores the ethical responsibility to uphold informed choice, dignity of risk, and personal autonomy for persons with disabilities. Participants will examine practical strategies, policy implications, and real-world examples that balance safety with self-determination, empowering individuals to direct their own lives with respect and dignity.

Trenton Landon comes to Utah State having earned his PhD in rehabilitation counseling from Michigan State university and having worked in the state VR system for seven years.

Trent Landon
Special Education and Rehabilitation Counseling
Associate Professor
Utah State University

Emma Eccles Jones College of Education & Human Services
Institute for Disability Research, Policy & Practice
UtahStateUniversity.