Utah Virtual Listening Sessions with HSRI & IDRPP

The Human Services Research Institute (HSRI), along with the Utah State University Institute for Disability Research, Policy, & Practice (IDRPP) will be hosting two online listening sessions in August 2024 to hear from people in/waiting for services, their families, and professionals in the aging and disability service network. This is part of an ongoing research study into what is and isn't going well in the service system. The feedback we receive will be used to help form a set of recommendations to the Utah Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) on how to improve services.

Sessions

Attendees will be entered in a raffle to win a $100 gift card!

- Monday, August 26th from 2:00-3:30 pm MT: Aging and disability professionals (providers, case managers, Direct Support Professionals, etc.)
- Thursday, August 29th from 6:30-8:00 pm MT: Older adults and people with disabilities in/waiting for services and their loved ones
