Demonstration & Loan Library

The Logan and Uintah Basin locations are both stocked with high- and low-tech devices that can be demonstrated, giving clients the opportunity to “try before you buy.”

Most items can be “checked out,” and all can be demonstrated at the AT labs in Logan and Roosevelt.

High-tech demonstration library inventory

- Augmentative and alternative communication software for both Apple and personal computers, including Boardmaker
- iPads loaded with AT apps (Augmentative and alternative communication, reading and comprehension aids, specialized apps for people with vision, hearing or motor loss)
- Liftware eating utensils
- Mobility devices
- Programs and assistive devices for people who have difficulties using a mouse or keyboard, including JAWS and Dragon
- Smart pens
- Switches and switch interfaces to enable access to electronics
- Vehicle adaptations
- Voice-activated electronic assistants (Alexa and Chrome)

Low-tech demonstration library inventory

- Adapted eating utensils and a feeding kit; includes custom-made, adapted silverware
- Custom-made AT (can also be made on request, usually for the cost of materials)
- Daily living aids
- Mobility devices
- Modular hose (used for mounting devices, Logan lab only)
- Knee scooters
